CHICAGO STREET DUET

Private Detectives and Diamond Thieves Open Fire.

WRONG MAN WAS KILLED

Claim Made That the Two Crooks Begun to Shoot as Soon as They Saw the Officers—Police Authorities Said to Have Very Little Faith in the Story.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—A man who was supposed to be Clarence White, one of the gang of porch-climbers who last spring robbed the residence of Norman B. Ream, on Lake Shore drive, of thousands of dollars' worth of diamonds, was killed last night by detectives belonging to the Berry agency.

The Berry men have been trying to find White ever since the lake shore robbery occurred, and early last evening five of them were standing on the corner of Winthrop place and Polk street. Two men came by in a buggy, driving a white horse.

When opposite the detectives, they are alleged to have opened fire, and it was briskly returned. The excitement on the street was intense. Pedestrians ran in all directions and sought shelter in convenient doorways.

A STREET DUET. The men on the Polk street at a breakneck speed. A police officer telephoned his station to send a patrol wagon in pursuit. This was done, and the wagon got out of the lane so quickly that it was only a little while behind the buggy when Uden avenue was reached.

At this street the man who was supposed to be Clarence White fell from the buggy and lay dead on the cat tracks, while the other man dashed on. The patrol wagon stopped to pick up the dead man, and the buggy went a little farther, when the remaining occupant deserted it and disappeared.

C. A. McDonald, superintendent of the Berry agency, was among the men who was present at the shooting. He brought into the Central station after visiting his attorney one of his operators by the name of Dick and surrendered him as the man who did the shooting.

THE WRONG MAN. The police believe that all of the men shot, and that Dick has been selected as a dummy for the present. They consider that the Berry men have made a great blunder, that they took the liberty of firing at a man who they believed to be Clarence White, and that they have made a mistake.

It was known to the city police that operator Dix of the Berry agency and operator Dick had killed the wrong man. Superintendent McDonald of the Berry agency and operator Dix were questioned closely by Inspector Shea, and the information was then announced that Dix thought he was shooting at Clarence White, but in reality shot and killed Frank White, brother of the criminal whom the Berry agency men asserted they wanted for robbery, and for whom they say they had a warrant for arrest.

After the cross-examination, Inspector Shea concluded to hold Edward Dix, the operator, who did the shooting. It is asserted by Dix that Clarence White was in the buggy at the time, and that it was he who escaped after the exchange of shots.

England Wrong Again. London, Nov. 15.—The Daily News today says that the question regarding the ownership of the Island of Trinidad is near a solution favorable to Brazil.
